Sample of Itinerary –4 nights / 5 days – RAS MOHAMMED – THISTLEGORM

Thistlegorm Wreck is one of the most famous dive sites in the world, located in the Red Sea near the coast of Egypt. This British merchant navy ship sank in 1941 after being bombed by German planes during World War II. The wreck is now an artificial reef and home to various marine life, making it a popular spot for divers and historians alike.

The SS Thistlegorm Wreck is a must-see for any experienced diver looking for an adventure. The wreck lies at a depth of 30 metres and is accessible by boat from the coastal town of Sharm El Sheikh. Divers should be comfortable with deep diving and have their wreck diving certification.

Once at the site, divers can explore the wreckage, which is still relatively intact, with its cargo of trucks, motorcycles, and even locomotives lying in the hold. The site offers a unique opportunity to experience a piece of history and get up close to the wreckage of a World War II ship.
