The safety and health of everyone remain a priority for the organization of the Paris International Dive Show.

We are closely monitoring the situation related to the coronavirus epidemic and are in permanent contact with the public authorities and event's professional associations.

The Paris International Dive Show will respect the sanitary protocol related to the context of the COVID 19 pandemic set up by the public authorities.

As the situation related to the spread of the coronavirus is evolving, the various actions carried out by the organization will be regularly updated according to government announcements.

The elements below concern the sanitary protocol applicable to Fairs and Exhibitions from November to December 2021.

This sanitary protocol will be updated at the end of the quarter. It is not particularly likely to change between now and January 2022.
